The chairman of the committee was H. Mertens. Karl Heinz Wohlfarth and H. U. Krochka also performed important work on the successful application of wind tunnel measurements in building design. Robert F. Hetherington introduced the first North American journal in the field, building on his earlier work for the British Constructional Design Association. References Category:Wind tunnelsWe come across the word 'practitioner' all the time. Its meaning is broad and will vary depending on the context, but all it really means is 'someone who is a practitioner of a profession'. However, in more complex issues such as mental health, what does it mean to be a practitioner? Does it have different connotations depending on the sector? As a therapist, teacher, counsellor or coach, it's important to be able to articulate what you do. This includes being able to say where you work, and to describe your style of working. If you are teaching future professionals, it's important that they have an understanding of what your role is and what you do - which also means you need to be able to describe your work. Our recent blog post on role clarity for early career therapists highlighted the importance of being able to articulate your role and therefore what you do. Here we focus c6a93da74d
